The manuscript page displays a grid of 100 squares, arranged in 10 rows and 10 columns. The squares contain handwritten Persian text, including names and titles, and some contain geometric diagrams. The text is written in a cursive script. The grid is divided into sections by lines, and some squares are highlighted with different colors or patterns. The overall layout is organized and systematic.

Key elements visible in the grid include:

- Row 1: Squares 1-4 contain names: "محمد", "علی", "علی", "علی".
- Row 2: Squares 1-4 contain names: "علی", "علی", "علی", "علی".
- Row 3: Squares 1-4 contain names: "علی", "علی", "علی", "علی".
- Row 4: Squares 1-4 contain names: "علی", "علی", "علی", "علی".
- Row 5: Squares 1-4 contain names: "علی", "علی", "علی", "علی".
- Row 6: Squares 1-4 contain names: "علی", "علی", "علی", "علی".
